

Introduction

I can easily conceive that as soon as some people learn what I've written, they will cry out at once that I and my theories should be rejected.

No matter. The truth is supreme and it is on my side. These revelations are what every preceding generation has been waiting for. I foresaw victory before I wrote the first word of this book. Unlimited wealth cannot be held back. Everyone hates taxes and loves things free, this book explains how to end taxes and pay the citizens for their time.

After Enlightenment: It becomes our responsibility to live as wise beings and treat each other supremely while learning and working, while profiting together as we go forth colonizing the universe. Satisfaction is fleeting, we must continue pioneering.

We were born to create and transcend.

The time has come for mankind to unite and evolve into Homo Sapiens Maximo Timeus Rex.

*Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables,

Habakkuk 2:2

Let him that would move the world first move himself.

Socrates

At some future period, not very distant as measured by centuries, the civilized races of man will almost certainly exterminate, and replace the savage races throughout the world.

Charles Darwin

*Alexander, Caesar, Charlemagne, and myself founded empires;
but what foundation did we rest the creations of our genius?
Upon force. Jesus Christ founded an empire upon love; and at this hour millions of men would die for Him.*

Napoleon Bonaparte

The ink of the scholar is more sacred than the blood of the martyr.

Muhammad

I do not know what I may appear to the world; but to myself I seem to have been only like a boy playing on the seashore, and diverting myself in now and then finding a smoother pebble or a prettier shell than ordinary, whilst the great ocean of truth lay all undiscovered before me.

Isaac Newton

No one saves us but ourselves, no one can and no one may. We ourselves must walk the path but Buddhas clearly show the way.

Dhammapada

The issue which has swept down the centuries and which will have to be fought sooner or later is the People vs. the Banks.

Lord Acton

*The Revolution was effected before the War commenced. The Revolution was in the minds and hearts of the people; a change in their religious sentiments of their duties and obligations...
This radical change in the principles, opinions, sentiments, and affections of the people,
was the real American Revolution.*

John Adams

It is well enough that people of the nation do not understand our banking and monetary system, for if they did, I believe there would be a revolution before tomorrow morning.

Henry Ford

Of all that heaven has produced and Earth nourishes, the greatest is man. Heaven's purpose is contained in our nature.

Confucius

And let it be noted that there is no more delicate matter to take in hand, nor more dangerous to conduct, nor more doubtful in its success, than to set up as a leader in the introduction of changes. For he who innovates will have for his enemies all those who are well off under the existing order of things, and only lukewarm supporters in those who might be better off under the new. This lukewarm temper arises partly from the fear of adversaries who have the laws on their side, and partly from the incredulity of mankind, who will never admit the merit of anything new, until they have seen it proved by the event.

Niccolo Machiavelli

Here we are, born to be kings. We're the princes of the universe.

Freddy Mercury

Art is never finished, only abandoned.
